Hosted by Lincoln Middle School

Zoom Link: us02web.zoom.us/j/81301329606

Dr. Mimi Nartey, Founder of Race Class and Parenting and author of the “Race, Class and Parenting” ebook series, will be unpacking critical social justice constructs, such as “allyship” and “privilege” and offering communication tools for middle school parents to empower their children to be sensitive, confident, and loving leaders. Drawing on her own dynamic life experiences as a bicultural, first generation African American woman, a former World Cup Soccer Player, an Ivy-league trained scientist and professor, and a mother of two children, Dr. Nartey will facilitate a dialogue to help you determine what you want for your family and community and help you understand how to execute on that vision.
