Lisa Ling is an award-winning journalist, host, executive producer, author and mother. She is the Executive Producer and host of THIS IS LIFE on CNN and HBOMax's TAKE OUT, an exploration of Asian American history through the lens of delicious Asian food, which is so ubiquitous in the U.S. Prior to CNN, Lisa EP'd and hosted Our America on OWN, was also a field correspondent for The Oprah Winfrey Show and a contributor to ABCNews' Nightline, reporting from dozens of countries on issues that are too often ignored. Lisa was the first female host of National Geographic's flagship show Explorer and a correspondent for Channel One News, covering the civil war in Afghanistan at 21 years of age. She co-hosted ABC Daytime's hit The View, which won its first daytime Emmy during her time at the show. Lisa is the co-author of "Mother, Sister, Daughter, Bride: Rituals of Womanhood," and "Somewhere Inside: One Sister's Captivity in North Korea and The Other's Fight to Bring Her Home" that she penned with her sister Laura. In 2014, President Obama appointed Lisa to the Commission on White House Fellows.
